The number of points is calculated on the basis of a single grading scale from the high school certificate according to the formula:

$$N = ([a1 : ml] + [a2 : ml]) / 2$$

(N) number of qualifying points = (a1) grade in one of the required subjects taught at 4 semester level / (ml) maximum grade on the national grading scale
+ (a2) grade from a second (other than that shown in the formula above) taught at 2 or 4 semester level / (ml) maximum grade on the national grading scale / 2

N - number of qualifying points c - the BMAT exam score expressed in points according to the table

BMAT grade	points
------------	--------

1,0- 1,5	0,60
1,6-2,5	0,65

$$N = ([d:m2] + [alva2:ml])/2$$

N - number of qualifying points

al a2 - final grade in subject at lower or higher level

d - a mark from a supplement or field of study

ml - maximum grade possible according to the national grading scale on the high school leaving certificate
