Methods of Teaching

1. Classes of general pharmacology course are conducted in the form of lectures, seminars, practicals and e-learning resources.
2. Attendance at the above-mentioned classes is compulsory.
3. The student presents prepared for each class in accordance with the program provided on the website and on the notice board of the Department of Pharmacology.

Mode and forms of compensation of missed activities

1. Absence from classes can be made up for with another seminar/practicals group, and if not possible, the made up form should be agreed with the assistant responsible for a given class/type of course conducting the classes.
2. Any absence must be justified within 7 days from the end-date of the absence. The only exception accepted constitute a medical certificate or Dean's leave/certificate.

3. In the case of more than 6 teaching hours (lectures, seminars or classes) missed per semester, the student is required to obtain the head of the Department consent to follow the course.
4. Delayed class attendance, i.e. over 20 minutes will be treated as absence from a class. No more than 3 latenesses of up to 20 minutes per semester are allowed.
5. A student unprepared for classes receives an unsatisfactory grade, resulting in failure to complete the given classes.
6. The student has two re-take terms to obtain credit for the missed/failed (absence, unsatisfactory grade) classes, no later than the day preceding the chapter credit test date. The dates are established by a teaching assistant or the head of the department.

Conditions and methods for admitting students to final course assessments and examinations

1. The condition for a student to be allowed to enter the chapter credit is to complete all the classes specified in the schedule on the day preceding the credit at the latest. The form of assessment along with the number of questions will be announced on the day the assessment date is announced.
2. The 60% of correct answers from the test (first term) or a satisfactory grade at the first or second retake (carried out in the form of a test, essay or oral – to be determined by a teaching assistant) constitute the condition for obtaining a partial credit.
3. Positive grades from all partial credits form the condition for entry to the final exam.

Conditions for allowing students to take part in classes

1. Participation in classes for a given academic year is confirmed by the student inscription on the Dean's list of students and assignment to a specified student group.
2. In the event of inappropriate behavior, which is contrary to the regulations of studies or other regulations binding at the University/Department, behavior disrupting the conduct of classes, endangering health, life or property, as well as in the event of a gross lack of personal culture in relation to the teacher or other students/persons participating in the classes, the student will not be admitted to or expelled from the classes. In the cases referred to above, the student is not admitted to the classes or withdrawn from them, it is tantamount to being absent from the classes.

Conditions and means for conducting partial course assessments (including the number of retake opportunities for such assessments)

1. Chapter credits for the 3rd year (in the test form 40 questions, time 40 minutes) will be conducted for the whole year on the specified date.
2. Chapter tests for the 4th year (16 test questions, 4 open questions) will be conducted during the block, according to the block plan.
3. Failed grade/s obtained from the chapter credit/s can be made-up in 2 re-sit dates set during the re-sit session: for the 3rd year - , 1st retake composed of 40 test questions (40 minutes), and 2nd retake 10 open questions (50 minutes); for the 4th year – 1st retake (16 test questions and 4 open questions, 25 minutes) on a date agreed with the assistant, 2nd retake (10 open questions, 50 minutes) no later than 7 days before the exam date.

Conditions and means for conducting final course assessments and exams

1. The final exam has the test form (100 test questions, 100 minutes). The condition for entry to the final exam constitute positive grades/credits from all chapter tests.
2. The date of the final test is set in accordance with the study regulations.
3. Students are entitled to two retakes, in the form of a test (50 questions, 50 minutes), an open question form (10 questions, 50 minutes), an essay, or an oral examination (the final format is determined by the unit head), on a date set by the department head by September 10th. The third exam date may be a board examination. The format of the retake exam will be announced on the day the exam date is announced.

Conditions for exemption from some final course assessments or exams

1. The department didactic regulations do not offer the exemptions from credits and the final test.

Forms of admission to the pre-scheduled examination

1. The student is allowed to enter the final exam in the so-called “preterm exam” if the following conditions are met: an average grade of at least 4.50 from all chapter tests in the test form. In case of receiving a failed grade for a chapter test, the average grade is calculated by summing up the grades from all terms (including failed and re-sit grades) and dividing the sum by the number of attempts. The average grade is given with the accuracy to two decimals. The above statement is binding for the students entering the pharmacology course in the academic year 2022/23. Exam in the so-called no preterm is not binding (not expected) for third-year students starting pharmacology course in the academic year 2023/24.

Assessment criteria

1. The verification of the student's knowledge and skills will be based on the grades and activity at seminars and practicals, results of chapter tests and the results of the final exam.
2. The 60% of correct answers from the test (both final and chapter) constitute the passing condition.
3. The grading scale is determined based on the provisions of §40 of the PUM Study Regulations

Additional

1. According to the Order of the Rector of PUM, the possession and use of devices enabling remote communication during the chapter test and final test is forbidden.
2. All comments/objections regarding test questions in CET exams/assessments must be submitted in writing during the test. Comments submitted after the test has been completed will not be considered. For tests held at the Department of Pharmacology, students have the right to review the exam/assessment paper, the question and answer sheet, and the list of correct answers in the presence of an academic teacher, with the opportunity to obtain clarification, for five business days following the announcement of results.
